and Social Committee

A word from the President

Christa Schweng, EESC President

The EESC is looking forward to cooperating closely with the Portuguese Presidency, especially since our own priorities are very much in line with theirs: we are advocating for an EU that prospers economically, and that is socially inclusive and environmentally sustainable.

The COVID-19 pandemic has turned our labour markets upside-down, both in terms of employment and forms of work. We are committed to provide grassroots-level input to the informal EU Social Summit planned for May 2021, through exploratory opinions on teleworking, vocational training and skills.

The digital and green transitions continue to be of the utmost relevance, topics that should be mainstreamed into every policy area. Sustainable development should become a mindset and the basis of a competitive European economy, leaving nobody behind.

The virus has also sped up the digitalisation of numerous aspects of our lives and I am glad that the Portuguese Presidency will be addressing this trend. Putting forward a Charter of Digital Rights, fostering the uptake of digital tools by governments across the EU, and using funds from the EU's recovery package are interesting and much-needed initiatives. The EESC is willing to contribute to these proposals through the expertise of its members.

I am looking forward to our joint initiatives and discussions. I would like to wish the Portuguese leadership every success in guiding the EU into the post COVID-19 era!

United for the Future of Europe.

Christa Schweng, EESC President

A word from the Portuguese Presidency

Ana Paula Zacarias, Secretary of State for European Affairs of Portugal

Portugal is taking over the presidency of the Council of the EU at a difficult time for Europe, marked by the pandemic crisis and its far-reaching socio-economic consequences.

Against this backdrop, we shall be focusing our work on three key areas: (1) economic recovery based on the twin digital and climate transitions; (2) strengthening the social dimension of the EU; and (3) the strategic autonomy of a Union that is open to the world. At the same time, we will strive to make Europe resilient, green, digital, social and global.

The first priority of our presidency will be to contribute to the EU's recovery and to the practical implementation of the next Multiannual Financial Framework and the Next Generation EU programme, as well as the national recovery and resilience plans. We want to ensure that the digital and climate transitions safeguard the well-being of Europeans and confidence in the European social model, promoting a Union based on the common values of solidarity, convergence and cohesion.

The social dimension will be the cornerstone of the Portuguese presidency. We will throw our weight behind implementing the European Pillar of Social Rights Action Plan in order to respond to the social dimension of the crisis, including responses in the area of public health.

In this connection, we will be hosting a two-part European Social Summit in Porto on 7 and 8 May 2021. The first part will consist of a high-level conference bringing together the European institutions, academic institutions and the social partners. We are counting on the EESC's participation and contribution. The second part will take the shape of an informal meeting of Heads of State and Government and will also focus on social issues.

Our motto will be: "Time to deliver: for a just, green and digital recovery"

The contribution of the EESC, as a political forum representing the interests of employers, workers and civil society organisations, is essential for boosting the democratic legitimacy of the EU's decision-making process and bringing the citizens closer to the European project.

During the Portuguese presidency we will rely on the EESC's collaboration and input in laying the foundations for this new decade and a post-COVID EU cycle.
