Break barriers together for autism Let's build an accessible society

Photo exhibition organised by the European Economic and Social Committee
and Autism-Europe

{ Culture } expo

Welcome to our photo exhibition!

It is to celebrate World Autism Awareness Day.

World autism awareness day is on 2 April each year.

It is a day to explain to people to live with autism.

Autism is a disability.

Autism can make it hard to communicate.

Autism can make it hard to make sense of the world.

People with autism might like doing the same activities again and again.

Everyone with autism is different.

The exhibition

We are showing photos from three photographers.

Graham Miller is a photographer from Scotland.

André Weisgerber is a photographer from Luxembourg.

And Michal Awin is a photographer from Poland.

The photos show how being autistic can be difficult.

The photos show some “barriers”.

“Barriers” means things that stop people with autism doing things other people do.

Many barriers for people with autism are things we cannot see.

We hope people will change things to remove the barriers.

This way people with autism can do the same things as other people.

This way people with autism can be more included.

These photos will help people understand autism better.

These photos also show how people with autism can do great things.

Thank you for coming and enjoy the exhibition!
